Subject: Clarification

Good afternoon,

Could it please be clarified if this is a typo. The Newtownbreda and Knockbracken wards are listed as Castlereagh East (they are currently Castlereagh South) and this would essentially cut off the Galwally and Cairnshill wards from the rest of Castlereagh south. See map attached. This doesn't make geographical or numerical sense. Castlereagh East would become a huge DEA (geographically and in terms of voters) and Castlereagh South tiny.

Warm regards
